German Submarine Slips Out of New London Harbor at Early Hour This Morning Carries Two Million Dollar Cargo

NEW LONDON, Conn., Nov. 17.—The Deutschland, the German submarine, which arrived here on November 1st, slipped out of the harbor at an early hour today (Friday) bound for Bremen. She left her pocket at the state pier at 12:30 o'clock and was towed down the harbor by two tugs. Captain F. Hinsch and other officials of the Eastern Forwarding company were on one of the tugs. A launch filled with newspapermen followed the submarine down the Thames river to the mouth of the harbor.

The Deutschland passed the United States cruiser Columbia in the lower harbor at 1:45 o'clock. Several passing steamers and the Columbia turned their searchlights on the boat and blew their whistles.

While the manifest of the Deutschland's cargo has not been made public it is estimated its approximate value is over $2,000,000. The cargo consists largely of crude rubber, nickel, zinc and silver bars. She also carries several sacks of mail from the German embassy at Washington.

Arrived First of Month.
The Deutschland arrived in New London on Nov. 1st, for her second trip to this country. Her first record-making voyage was to Baltimore last summer.

On her trip here the craft brought a cargo estimated at ten million dollars. The freight was composed of desiccated, chemicals and medicines, besides securities and bonds.

Tidal Conditions Good.
The submarine made rapid progress. At times her decks were awash. At two o'clock she was nearly at the entrance of the harbor. The tug was leading the way and the other followed at a close distance.

Passes Out of Sight.
Shore observers lost sight of the Deutschland half an hour later. It was impossible to determine her exact course. She had the choice of going thru Fisher's Island Sound or she could sail thru the islands in the race, where United States forts are located. It was generally believed here that the Deutschland would submerge after she passed the three mile limit.

Passes Thru Race at 2:30?
Fishers Island, N. Y., Nov. 17.—A small craft believed to be the merchant submarine Deutschland passed thru the race at 2:30 o'clock this morning headed for sea, according to observers at Fort Wright.

Reported Awaiting Gold.
NEW LONDON, Conn., Nov. 16.—Unusual activity at the pier tonight indicated that the time was near for the departure of the German commercial submarine Deutschland. At 10 o'clock lights at the pier were darkened and guards kept would-be spectators moving.

Raise Great Steel Net.
Shortly before mid-night the great steel net that guarded the entrance to the harbor was pulled up on the pier. A dozen sailors from the Willie had joined the force of guards and all persons were warned to keep away from the wharf. A plank was hurled at a newspaperman who ventured too close to the wharves. Water was squirted upon others who did not move when ordered.

The United States cruiser Columbia played her searchlight over the waters of the lower harbor during the night.

Tugs Come Up Harbor.
Two tugs owned by the T. A. Scott Wrecking company steamed up the harbor to the pier at 1 o'clock this morning (Friday). The Scott company is a sub-agent of the Eastern Forwarding company and one of its tugs met the Deutschland when she arrived here.

Is Alleged to be Due for Board and Services During Illness in Springfield.

Springfield, Ill., Nov. 16.—The suit for $10,000 recently filed by Lewis Chaffee and his sister, Miss Wannie Chaffee, against Senator Lawrence Y. Sherman, is for boarding the senator and for alleged services during his illness several years ago when he lived in Springfield previous to his second marriage. It was learned here today. Senator Sherman boarded and roomed at the Chaffee home. There was declared to be a disagreement between him and the Chaffees as to the amount of his indebtedness.

DESTROYED BY FIRE
Chicago, Nov. 16.—Three large freight warehouses and forty box cars filled with merchandise were destroyed by fire in the Kensington yards of the Michigan Central Railroad today, causing a loss of $250,000.

DARIO RESTA AGAIN WINS VANDERBILT CUP

Italian Sets New World's Road Race Record

Covers Distance of 294 Miles at Average of 86.98 Miles an Hour—Takes Lead in Contest for Title of "Champion Driver"—Cooper, Second—Weightman, Third.

SANTA MONICA, Cal., Nov. 16.—Dario Resta won today the Vanderbilt cup for the second successive time; broke the Vanderbilt automobile road race record by eleven miles per hour with an average speed of 86.98 miles an hour for the 294.035 miles; set a new world's road race record and took the lead in the American automobile association's $12,500 contest for the title of "Champion Driver of America."

Resta's time was 3:22:48.4. It was a race unmarred by injury to contestants. The three leaders broke the previous world's road race record made on the same course by Teddy Tetzlaff in 1912 with an average of 78.72 miles an hour. This was not however, a Vanderbilt cup race. Ralph DePalma who averaged 75.66 miles per hour over the Santa Monica course in 1914 held the Vanderbilt cup speed record up to today.

The three who finished next in order to Resta were: Earl Cooper, second, 3:20:40.4; William Weightman, third, 3:42:00.4; Roads, fourth, 3:54:45.4.

Nineteen Drivers Start.

Vail and Patterson, the only survivors of the terrific strain on the cars were flagged while running. Nineteen drivers started the long grind over the 8,401 miles triangular course at noon before an audience of thousands bunched high on the temporary bleachers facing the ocean on the straightway and wove their way between two deep hedges of standing room spectators that lined both sides of the course.

Mechanical troubles caused most of the withdrawals. Bolden alone suffering from the dangerous turns. He skidded and was out on the thirty first lap.

It was Resta's race soon after the start. He, Aitken and Cooper fought for honors from the start while William Weightman, Virginia sportsman, little reckoned with before the race came in home third.

Aitken took the lead in the first lap with Cooper and Resta pursuing. They fought it out with Resta steadily overcoming the handicap of his late start and pushing to the front in the fourteenth lap with Aitken and Cooper trailing.

Maintains Steady Pace.
Resta widened his lead lap after lap and following Aitken's withdrawal after the twentieth lap with a broken crank shaft, he maintained a steady pace. The Italian's driving was not spectacular. He never varied on his turns, taking them with the same confidence he displayed on the straightways. Several drivers brought the spectators to their feet as they rounded the grandstand stretch in a cloud of dust following bad skids. Eddie Pullen was disqualified on his thirteenth lap for taking on gasoline near the Soldier's Home.

Pullen was in fourth place at the time of his disqualification. Bolden forced out after a bad skid in the thirty-first lap was the thirteenth man to quit.

Resta in addition to acquiring additional laurels added $1,000 to his fortune. Cooper received $2,000, Weightman $1,000 and Roads $500.

FLAMES BRING END TO TRAGIC CAREER

Former Prominent Resident of Clinton Burns to Death in Old Shack.

Bloomington, Ill., Nov. 16.—The charred remains of A. R. Pickering, aged 68, formerly a wealthy resident of Clinton, Ill., were found this morning after a shack which he called home, was burned to the ground. Helpless from rheumatism, the old man was unable to save himself when his place caught on fire from an overheated stove. The tragic death of Mr. Pickering ends one of the most pathetic cases ever disclosed in De Witt county, where he was for many years prosperous, prominent in church and social circles, and a leader of a church choir as well as being an accomplished pianist. Last spring his wife died in the county home at Halville and Pickering was later allowed to return to Clinton to eke out a living handling rags and old iron.

Springfield, Mass., Nov. 16.—Secretary of War Newton D. Baker was re-elected president of the National Consumers' League here today.

MANY BAKERIES COMPELLED TO CLOSE

Soaring Prices Have Forced 1,500 Bakeries to Discontinue Business Since August 1.

Chicago, Nov. 16.—According to J. M. Bell, general secretary of the National Association of Master Bakers of America, who returned today from a meeting of the executive board of the organization at Memphis, 1,500 bakeries have been compelled to close since August 1, because of the soaring prices of flour, eggs, butter, and other substances used in the baking business.

Mr. Bell said that at the beginning of the war there were about 30,000 bakeries in the United States. Mr. Bell, it was expected, would be called as a witness before the aldermanic committee investigating the high cost of food in this city.

R. H. Dahlheimer, president of the local unit of the National Bakers' organization, was before the committee today. He protested against a proposed ordinance compelling bakers to make only one size loaf to weigh sixteen ounces. Other bakers also opposed the measure.

TO DISCUSS PRESENT RAILROAD SITUATION

From Standpoint of Country's Business Interests

Meeting of National Council of Chamber of Commerce of U. S. Will Begin in Washington Today—To Consider Adamson Law in Particular.

WASHINGTON, Nov. 16.—Discussion of the railroad situation and particularly the Adamson 8-hour law from the standpoint of the country's business interests will begin here tomorrow at a special meeting of the national council of the Chamber of Commerce of the United States. Several hundred representatives of commercial organizations are expected and many prominent speakers are on the program.

The meeting was called for the purpose of having business interests affiliated with the chamber express their views before the joint congressional committee appointed to investigate railroad questions meet here next week.

The joint congressional committee announced today that its first day, Monday, will be given over to state railway commissioners. These commissioners have been in session here for several days and sentiment has been strong in favor of appearing before the joint committee to fight action by congress tending to take away their powers over interstate carriers. After the railroad commissioners will come railway presidents, bankers, labor and industrial organizations as well as to be heard. Many acceptances of invitations to testify have been received from prominent business men.

At the meeting of the Chamber of Commerce tomorrow a plan for preventing the interruption of public utilities operation by strikes will be presented by Henry R. Towne of New York.

Officials of the organization predicted tonight that the question of concurrent jurisdiction over railroads by state commissions and the interstate commerce commission will be taken up and plans suggested for a single controlling commission.

Approve Railway's Action
New York, Nov. 16.—Action of the railway companies thruout the country in beginning suits to test the constitutionality of the Adamson law was approved today by the National Founders association at the closing session of its convention here. It adopted a resolution declaring the "right to have their cause determined by judicial proceedings should be secured to the railroad systems" and that the association approved their attitude in maintaining that right.

War News Summarized

In the Ancre region of France, where since Monday the British have made notable gains over the Germans the fighting apparently has lessened greatly in violence, the latest British official communication reporting only bombardments by the Germans of their newly won front to the north of the stream. An additional six officers and 297 men have been made prisoner by the British in this region during the last 24 hours.

To the southeast of Salisiel where the Germans had occupied a house northeast of the village, the French now have driven them out in a counter attack, according to the French official communication. On the remainder of the front in France, especially in the regions of Abinecourt and LesSars and Gueudecourt, there were violent bombardments of British and French positions by the Germans while the French hammered the German front in the Souchez and Armentieres sectors.

In the Macedonia theater the entente troops continue to press the Teutonic allies in the Cerna region and, according to the Serbian war office have seriously broken their line both east and west of the Cerna southeast of Monastir, captured four additional villages east of the river and on the west side driving them back from several additional points toward Monastir. Berlin admits that in the Cerna region the Bulgarian-German forces have left off and occupied newly prepared positions.

To the east the British have taken the town of Karakass, on the east side of Lake Tabinos.

The Austro-German armies in the Transylvania theater in the Alt and Jial valleys have forced a further retirement of the Roumanians and also have made progress in the Rothenthurm and Szurdok pass regions, taking 1200 men prisoner. On the west Moldavia front Russian attacks east of the Putna valley were put down by the Teutonic allies, as was an offensive in the vicinity of the Oltuz pass.

While Berlin asserts there have been only minor engagements in Dobrudja, Petrograd reports the Russians have made further progress southward and that the Teutonic allies continue to retreat, burning villages behind them. Dental is made by Berlin of the assertions that the Roumanians have captured the town of Bonascol on the Danube.

Bombardments are taking place along the entire eastern front in Russia and Galicia, according to the Petrograd war office. Berlin reports a repulse of the Russian attack southeast of Riga.

The situation east of Gorizia is made somewhat obscure by the claims of the Vienna and Rome war offices both of which record successes for their respective armies. Vienna asserts that the Austrians have captured another Italian trench in this district together with sixty prisoners and two machine guns, while Rome records the re-occupation of trenches evacuated by the Italians Tuesday.

BELGIAN MINISTER APPEALS TO U. S.

To Stop Deportation of Belgian Workmen to Germany

Claims Countrymen are Practically Being Compelled to Fight Against Their Own Nation—Asks Active Intervention of United States Government.

WASHINGTON, Nov. 16.—An appeal for active intervention by the United States to stop the deportation of Belgian workmen into Germany was presented to the state department today by E. Havenith, the Belgian minister. The Belgians, Mr. Havenith said, practically are being compelled to fight against their own country, contrary to the laws of nations and humanity.

Minister Havenith submitted the following communication to the state department:

"The German governor-general in Belgium is forcing thousands of Belgian workmen who are unemployed or without work to go to Germany to work in the quarries in manufacturing concrete and in the lime kilns under pretext that they are a charge upon public charity.

"The Belgian government protests energetically against this coercive measure which is contrary to the law of nations and the laws of humanity. The government of the king asks the active intervention of the government of the United States to obtain the cessation of this deportation of Belgian workmen into Germany and to obtain the liberation of those who have been already deported.

"The Germans claim that these workmen are not employed in war industries.

"It should be remarked however, that they are employed in industries directly connected with the war and that the employment of this Belgian labor releases a great number of German workmen who are sent to the front. Thus these Belgian workmen are compelled practically to fight against their own country."

FEDERATION PROTESTS EMIGRATION OF NEGROES

Asserts Emigration to North is Menace to Workers in Northern States.

Baltimore, Md., Nov. 16.—The emigration of southern negroes to northern labor centers was brought to the attention of the convention of the American Federation of Labor today when the committee on organization favorably reported a resolution designed to eliminate what was characterized as a "menace to the workers in northern states."

The resolution which was adopted, recited that the investigation of such emigration and importation of negroes in Ohio had demonstrated to the satisfaction of labor leaders that they were being brought north for the purpose of filling the places of union men demanding better conditions, as in the case of freight handlers.

A resolution was also adopted, looking to the organization of a department comprising those organizations directly connected with the theatrical industry.

PLAYERS BELIEVE CRISIS IS AT HAND

Action of National Association Threatens Clash

May Evolve Situation Akin to Strike of Leading Baseball Players in Major and Minor Leagues—Other Interesting Developments in Baseball World.

NEW YORK, Nov. 16.—The action of the national association of professional leagues in tabling without comment the request of the Players' Fraternity at New Orleans yesterday threatens to bring about a clash between the two organizations that will have a far-reaching effect.

Altho officers of the fraternity refuse to talk for publication it is known there have been several recent conferences among players prominent on the board of directors and that a campaign of retaliation has been mapped out which may evolve a situation akin to a strike of the leading players of the major and the minor leagues.

The players contend that the request of the elimination in certain contracts of the "injury clause" suspension; the right to sign new contracts upon receipt of unconditional release; allowance of traveling expenses to minor league players at the beginning of the training season and a revision of the national board's procedure in handling case brought up for decision by the fraternity, are just and equitable. They claim they are similar in a general way to the agreements existing between employers and employees in other lines of business and must be observed in the future if players and magnates are to work in harmony for the advancement of the best interests of baseball.

Await Consent of Officials.

It is known that every member of the Players' Fraternity has signed a written agreement not to enter into contracts for 1917 until such time as the consent of the fraternity officials is obtained. It is understood that less than twenty five players in the two big leagues have contracts that hold over another season and that not more than one quarter of those are members of the players' organization.

The report that Chairman Gary Herrmann of the national commission may be superseded at the next annual meeting of that body has caused apprehension among the members of the fraternity as he is considered by that organization to take greater interest in the welfare of the players than the other members of the commission.

Players are also concerned in the reports of a possible third major league, the rumors of clubs being shifted from one city to another and the suit of the former Baltimore Federal League Club against organized baseball. Several systems and the latter club whose suit for $900,000 will come to trial next February, are said to have approached prominent players, whose contracts have expired and asked intimate questions regarding their plans for the future.

These taken together with other interesting developments in baseball have led the players to believe, it is understood that a crisis is at hand.

NEW MYSTERY ADDED TO TRAGIC DEATH

Pontiac Girl's Body Not in River More Than Three Days

Physician Who Performs Autopsy on Body of Christine Diemer Announces Opinion—Authenticates Loss to Account for Whereabouts of Girl During Nine Days.

PONTIAC, Ill., Nov. 16.—A new note of mystery was added to the tragic death of Christine Diemer today when the committee on organization favorably reported a resolution designed to eliminate what was characterized as a "menace to the workers in northern states."

This apparently established a lapse of nine days from the time of her disappearance until the body of the victim was thrown into the river. Investigators spent the day in an effort to find some trace of the girl's movements between the time she disappeared and the day her body was recovered. She disappeared from the Diemer home Oct. 27th and her body was found in the Vermillion river November 8th.

Face Several Theories

In an effort to account for the lapse of time the Livingston county officials were presented with these theories:

That she was murdered the night of her disappearance and her body hidden for nine days and then thrown into the river.

That the girl in a hysterical state of mind fled into the nearby woods and remained in hiding until she was attacked.

That she fled to the home of relatives or friends where she was hidden until the day she was murdered and that the persons who knew of her refuge have been prevented by fear from telling the authorities.

That she started on her long planned trip to Florida and was attacked and brought back by her assailant.

That she was held prisoner in some hut along the river until she was murdered.

"It is quite certain that the body was not placed in the water until three days before it was found," said Dr. Middleton. "Science has a very definite means of arriving at such conclusions. She may have been killed immediately before she was put in the water or several days before."

Continues Investigation

State's Attorney F. A. Ortman continued his investigation of evidence on which one or all members of the family may be held to the grand jury on the charge of murder.

It was admitted that the baffling point about the case was the almost complete lack of a plausible motive for the alleged murder of the girl, whose body was found in the Vermillion river a week ago.

Diemer, his wife and daughter, Magdalena, continued their denials that Christine had been murdered, and the theory of suicide was emphasized. A development was a statement attributed to Magdalena that Christine's will disposing of about $2,000 in cash and personal property, had been drawn in her favor, but at the same time she declared she had not wanted for money.

Find Muddy Shoes

A pair of muddy, water-soaked shoes figures in an investigation being made by County Treasurer W. M. Patterson, former sheriff. Mr. Patterson came upon the shoes upon the back porch, Magdalena Diemer, Christine's sister, according to Patterson, said she wasn't sure, but thought that the shoes were her's. Later she said she wore them in cleaning up the basement. The basement Mr. Patterson said is of cement and neither wet nor muddy.

No Water in Lungs

Local experts assert that the absence of water from the lungs precludes the theory of suicide. The Diemer home is two blocks from the Vermillion river, and the street leading to it is a busy one. The coroner's physician, who conducted the autopsy, expressed the opinion that death came several days before the body was placed in the river.

Sister Talks Freely

Magdalena Diemer talked freely of the case. "Christine's will disposing of $2,000 in cash and personal property is in my favor," she said.

"My defense is that no member of my family had to ask Christine for money more than once, or ever asked for it without getting it. She taught school and had money of her own. She was a college graduate and was 33 years old.

"People think it was strange that her disappearance didn't affect us more, but they wouldn't if they knew that this was nothing unusual for Christine. She had a habit of disappearing. She had money, her own automobile, and was her own boss. She was a nice girl when she was right, but she was awful when she had those spells. She resented having been sent to a sanatorium in Peoria.

"She never told us when she was going away nor did she write while she was gone. This time father wanted to go to the railroad station and make inquiries at once, but I dissuaded him. I knew Christine would be angry if we tried to trace her, and I was sure she had gone to Florida."

Municipal Government.

At Springfield, Mass., some ten national, state and sectional organizations devoted to the improvement of municipal life held their annual convention. The list of organizations includes the national municipal league, municipal research conference, the city managers' association, civic secretaries' committee, training school for public service, the intercollegiate division of the national municipal league, Massachusetts civic league, the Massachusetts single tax league, etc.

These organizations are made of men and women who are genuinely interested in working out a solution of municipal problems. The municipal league, one of the organizations, has had a committee at work for three years formulating a model city charter and this may be divulged at the coming convention. These various organizations have indeed a fruitful field for investigation and work. Municipal government has not taken on the same efficiency as state and national government in this country and nobody seems to know just the reason. It is in the effort to solve the problem that these various organizations have been formed and certain benefits have already come from their work. In these latter years there has been an advance in municipal government ideals evidenced by the commission form, city manager and other special types of government.

The greatest advances have been in the changing ideals of citizens as to what the proper municipal government is and today municipal government must make provision for health, sanitation, recreation, special lines of education and other things which twenty years ago were not considered as a part of government functions.

The Warning to Mexico

(New York World.)
Great Britain's warning to Mexico transmitted thru its ambassador at Washington and the American Department of States, that it will be held accountable for any negligence or favor on its part that may be of assistance to German submarines is a startling reminder to the Carranza government of its responsibilities. Secretary Lane recently informed the first chief's representatives that Mexico could not expect to be a nation apart. It must assume and respect all the obligations of sovereignty if it hopes to make itself an independent state. The United States is regarded by the de facto government with suspicion and enmity, and yet it is to the United States alone that Mexico owes its freedom from European aggression. Great Britain addresses General Carranza thru the American State Department because it recognizes in the United States government a more powerful guarantor of law than is to be found in Mexico itself.

Demand for Travel Luxuries Increase Costs

Statistics presented in the current issue of the Railway Age show a remarkable comparison between the railroads of the United States and of other countries. In the United States the roads carry freight at much lower rates than in European countries and the trainmen here are paid much higher wages. This is possible principally because the United States roads haul not only longer trains but have freight cars of so much greater capacity. It is also notable that passenger trains in European countries are operated at less cost than in this country. It is generally understood that railway net earnings in this country come in very large measure from the freight departments. And in many instances the passenger traffic does not pay its way.

One reason for the poor showing made in passenger departments is the extravagant equipment which rivalry and the demands of the people have brought about. If Americans were satisfied to travel with less of ease and comfort provided for them, the railroads could do business more profitably and at lower rates. After all, therefore, much of the trouble of the railroads is attributable to the tastes of the people who in railway transportation, just as in other affairs, are not satisfied with the accommodations furnished their ancestors but want to travel faster and more luxuriously.

Still another great expense which the railroads bear, and which must always eventually be collected from the people in rates, is in terminal facilities. Railroads go on building million dollar stations for the comfort and pleasure of the people and this is all charged up in passenger and freight tariffs.

Cleveland May Start Coal Business

In Cleveland there have been various advance movements to secure rights for the people and aligned with that record is the proposition of W. E. Davis, lighting commissioner, to purchase coal lands for the use of the city. Because of the coal famine or car shortage the people and business interests of Cleveland have been paying exorbitant prices for fuel and it is to guard against a recurrence of such trouble that the proposal to buy coal lands is made. Since the business in which cities engage is increasing in scope there is no special reason why it should not include coal mining. A municipality as the operator of a mine might have less trouble than individuals or private corporations, especially if the idea was prevalent that the business was being operated for the benefit of the public.

Mining conditions have changed greatly in the last ten or twenty years and with the present market prevailing the coal mine which was once a Jacksonville enterprise could be operated profitably. When the Jacksonville mine was in business most of the coal hauled into the city was at a rate of 25 to 40¢ a ton. Now the bulk of the coal comes on 54, 70 and 80¢ rates. In those days coal was purchased at some of the mines at 55¢ a ton and transported to the city at the freight rates already quoted. The present mine price of lump coal is $3 per ton. This is abnormal but at a price of $1.50 to $1.75 a ton mines of the class that Jacksonville property belongs could now be profitably operated.

The vein of coal underlying this city is between three and four feet thick. In the vicinity of Murrayville there are two veins, one four feet thick and one six feet thick. Near Chapin to the west of the city the vein is at least four feet thick, and Morgan county coal is said to rank well in quality with the best of that in Sangamon county. The day has not yet arrived but indications are that it is not very far distant when coal mining operations will be carried on in this county in an extensive way, for the changing conditions of the coal business will make this possible. The proposed municipal Cleveland mine has no relation to the Jacksonville situation but simply suggests changes which the years are likely to bring in the development of the coal business.

Statistics printed in the Galesburg Mail show that the average expenditure in Knox county for working dirt roads is $82.75 per mile this year. These figures for a ten year period mean an expenditure of $68.97 per mile. The county has about 1,320 miles of roads. The purpose of the statistics was to point to the moral that earth roads if properly worked cost heavily and when the work is done that is by no means of a permanent type.

THE STATESMEN

Oh, what's the use of statesmanship, with all its advertising? Expenses never lose their grip, and costs are ever rising. We've listened thru a long campaign to statesmen's endless chatter; they tried to make all subjects plain, save those that really matter. Why do we find this life so hard? Why are we all puffed up with statesmen's evasive on guard, our ills should be adjusted. The statesman in your neighborhood will hand you countless pledges, but when it comes to making good, that statesman always hedges. The statesmen talk of abstract things, of bogeyman alarming; they lend imagination wings, and make their discourse charming. But still the price goes up and up, or all we must be buying, and for a chance to dine or sup, we hear the children crying. The statesmen talk their empty truck, and make the welkin quiver, and while they feed on roasted duck, we fill ourselves with liver.

THIS DATE IN ILLINOIS HISTORY

November 17, 1750—A letter written by Vivier, a Jesuit priest, says that at this time there were about 140 families in the five French villages of Illinois. The letter recommends founding a solid establishment in the country, in order to insure to the French the possession of Illinois, important as a link between Canada and Louisiana.

DR. MILLER HOST TO KNIGHTS TEMPLAR

Entertained Them Royally Thursday Night at Home in Woodson—Company of Seventy Five Around Festival Board.

An event eagerly anticipated each year by Dr. G. W. Miller of Woodson as host and the members of Hospitalier Commandery No. 31, Knights Templar, as guests, is the feast to which the worthy Sir Knight of the first station south of Jacksonville on the "Only Way," invited the fraters of Hospitaliers.

Thursday evening was the date selected by the good physician and Sir Knight and right royally did he prepare for his guests, about seventy five of whom partook of the generous hospitality accorded them at the lovely home of the host. Twenty eight big, fat spring chickens laid their heads on the block as a contribution to the feast while nine delicious cakes and other good things in proportion graced the bountiful board. The guests arrived by train and automobile and from late in the afternoon till late in the evening the house was the scene of good cheer and feasting.

At the head of the culinary force, with her hand on the helm, was the doctor's accomplished niece and housekeeper, Miss Marie Megginson guided the table arrangements which were faultless. The good ladies of Woodson are noted for their fine ability as cooks and on this occasion they were at their best. Miss Megginson was ably assisted by Mesdames Amos Megginson, C. C. Self, Lou Henry, L. R. Watson, Whitlock, Clara Henry and Alice Hitch. Everything they did was above criticism and fully enjoyed by the guests. Then an additional charm was lent the feast by the courteous and winning young waitresses, Misses Margaret Strandberg and Maud Brown of Jacksonville, Marguerite Steinmetz, Hazel Watson, Bertha Dunlap and Claribel Megginson of Woodson. These young ladies performed their duties in a manner which won praise from all so that, in fact, there was nothing to mar the occasion or lessen the satisfaction of the guests.

By special request Alex Dunavan seated himself at the piano while a quartet composed of Messrs. W. W. Gillham, Charles W. Cornick, W. S. Badger and Dr. R. R. Jones rendered a number of old time songs in a very acceptable manner. Sociability and good cheer prevailed till a late hour when all departed wishing the worthy host many years of life and enjoyment.

The Journal reporter is under many obligations to his good friends E. M. Chrisman and son Bert for a ride to Woodson in their reliable Case car which made the trip in short order.

The following impromptu song prepared on the spot was sung by the vocalists and is published by request.

Should Dr. Miller be forgot
And never brought to mind
With his chickens fried so nice
And cukes of every kind.
We'll think of him for many days
And of this supper fine
And hope he'll have the same next year
And ask us every time.

We'll not forget his sweet Marie
Nor all these ladies fine;
The cooks and waiters served us well
With viands to our mind.
To Woodson we shall love to come
To get a supper fine,
And we'll remember such a feast
In every lang and clime.

Fried chicken is a dish for kings
When cooked so nice and prime
And each can eat enough for three
And love it every time.
We'll never forget, no never forget
This evening bright and fine
And only wish it oft enoored
While void of beer and wine.

The Megginsons are lovely cooks
And never work for pelf,
And Mrs. Henry knows it all,
As well as Mrs. Self.
Then Mrs. Whitlock, ready now
To make a meal so rich;
While all her efforts are upheld
By Mrs. Alice Hitch.

How nice is Margaret Strandberg too,
The nicest in the town;
Her smile is better than a feast,
And like her is Maud Brown;
And Marguerite Steinmetz, like them both.

And Hazel Watson too;
They wait on all so handsomely,
There's nothing they can't do.

Then Bertha we shall not forget
With all her winning smiles,
And hope she'll wait on us again
With all her pretty wiles.
And when we want the true and good
To help us very well,
We'll haste to send a messenger
To bring us Claribel.

We give the ladies all three cheers,
The doctor three times three,
And hope they'll live for many years
As happy as can be.
And every year we'll watch and wait
For such a royal feast.
With such a host and ladies fine,
It surely is the best.

LOST OAR CAUSED YOUNG MAN'S DEATH

Paul McKinney Riding Waves of Lake Michigan When Accident Happened—Always Interested in Boat Craft.

Some time since the Journal printed details of the drowning of Paul McKinney in Lake Michigan. The report, based on a newspaper telegram from Chicago, was to the effect that young McKinney's death was caused by his willingness to take a dare and attempt to row a rough and choppy lake. A friend of the family has written the Journal the correct details of the unfortunate accident in which the young man, so well and favorably known here, lost his life. Friends of Paul McKinney will remember that as a student in the local high school he was especially interested in motor boats and while working in the manual training department here built a boat.

After his graduation his interest in such matters continued and he was the owner always of one or two motor boats. Each summer for years he has spent with the family near Petoskey, Mich., and there he had the opportunity of still further developing his interest in water craft. On the date of the drowning the young man left home after school saying he would work on the boat which had previously conveyed the family from the northern resort to Chicago. "I will work late tonight," he said, "for I want to get the engine to breathing by Saturday."

When he arrived at the lake following his custom he took the row boat and went out to ride the waves. In some way while thus engaged he lost an oar and as the waves were heavy that day his boat was soon overturned. There were watchers on the shore who saw the boat overturn and that young McKinney had started to swim. He was making good headway when seemingly caught by the undertow or was overcome with cramps and carried under. A life line had been thrown to him and he was very near it when he disappeared beneath the waves. The boat on which he went to the lake to work on was a 36 foot, 6 cylinder cruiser that he bought last summer while north, and it was in this that the family journeyed from Harbor Springs to Chicago. They reached their home there late in August and very soon afterward Paul began work overhauling the engine and putting the whole equipment in first class condition.

It was not because Paul McKinney took a foolish dare that he lost his life but because of the accidental loss of an oar which made his combat with the waves unequal.

He was an expert swimmer and a splendid swimmer but he met conditions which even these conditions could not overcome.

Student Government Was Instituted Three Years Ago and Has Proved Successful—Give "Movie" Evening

The third anniversary of student government at Illinois Woman's college was the occasion, Thursday of a special observance, when attention was called to the success which the new plan has met on every hand. At the forenoon chapel hour talks were made by students and special music by the orchestra added to the general enthusiasm.

Miss Helen DeWitt, president of the student association, presided. Talks were made by Misses Jane Parkinson, Zoe McNeill, Marie Towle and Phyllis Wilkinson. The remarks of each were received with hearty applause.

At the dinner hour, students residing in town were guests at the college. The class songs were sung and class yells were given. After dinner the young women adjourned to the social room and a film, "The School for Scandal," featuring Alice Joyce, was shown on the college motion picture machine.

Miss Joanna Onken is vice president of the student association, Miss Maude Strubinger is treasurer and Miss Marie Towle is secretary.

"THE BIRD OF PARADISE"
The attractiveness of the story of "The Bird of Paradise," Oliver Morosco's production which he will offer at the Grand on Monday, Nov. 20, makes Mr. Tuley's Hawaiian drama one of the strongest drawing attractions that has been offered theatre-goers in many seasons. He has succeeded in creating an interesting and fascinating theme for his plot, and an alluring picture of our West Pacific possessions for his background. The story unfolds engrossing love scenes which display unusual beauty in the sentiment and characters involved, whether native, Hawaiian, or Anglo-Saxon. Behind all this is a background of tropical lavishness and sparkling play.

To give the play the enchantment of these beautiful islands, a native Hawaiian band of musicians and singers accompanies the organization. Miss May Buckley, an actress of renowned ability is this season's "Lulu"; Forrest Stanley, a former favorite here will be seen in the role of Paul Wilson.

The seat sale is now in progress.

WEAK AND TIRED WOMAN
Tells How Vinol Made Her Strong.

Jacksonville women who are weak, rundown and suffer from the consequent effects of such a condition, will be interested in Mrs. Odell's letter. She says:

"I am a farmer's wife and was all run-down, weak, tired, and suffered from indigestion, and sometimes it seemed as though I could not keep around and do my housework. I had taken many medicines without benefit. One day I saw Vinol advertised and made up my mind to try it. I have taken four bottles and have gained seven pounds in weight, am much stronger and feel many years younger than before." Sarah Odell, Lockport, N. Y.

The reason Vinol builds up weak, run-down women so quickly is because it contains a delicious combination of most successful tonics, beef and cod liver peptones, iron and manganese peptonates and glycerophosphates, in a mild tonic wine.

We want to say to every weak, run-down, overworked woman in Jacksonville that we will return your money if Vinol fails to help you as it did Mrs. Odell.

MAKING DIMES AND DOLLARS GO FURTHER

These are days that call for economy and it is the savings in the conduct of business and household affairs that will enable people to "get by" during the present period of high prices which is affecting practically all lines. So the following suggestions for economies, mostly relating to the household, are given. Readers of the Journal are asked to send in for publication economy suggestions. There are various ways of saving which business men or housewives have devised and for the benefit of the public generally these plans should be made public. The name of the writer need not be used if there is objection, but quite frequently the name of the contributor will give the economy suggestion added weight.

With soft coal selling at $1.10 to $1.50 a ton more than the prevailing prices for years past, a number of citizens have already tried out the plan of burning mine run and find that this can be done successfully if a little care is used. Mine run differs from lump coal only in the fact that there is more screenings. There is just as much heat in a ton of mine run as in a ton of screened coal and the price is 50c a ton less.

When ironing with an electric iron a considerable saving in current can be effected by folding in half such articles as napkins, handkerchiefs, towels, etc., before commencing to iron them. Turn on the current and then fold the pieces while waiting for the iron to heat.

An economical liquid for cleaning various fabrics may be made as follows: Grate raw potatoes to a pulp and add a pint of water to a pint of pulp. Strain this liquid thru a sieve and allow to settle. Pour off the clear liquid, which is to be used for the cleaning. Dip a sponge in the liquid and apply to the fabric until spots are removed. Rinse in warm water and press on wrong side.

The cheap shoulder or skirt steak may be made into a tender and appetizing dish. Put in a hot pan over the fire and brown it well, sprinkling with a little flour. Then add a pint of hot water, cover tightly and let simmer gently on back of stove for two or three hours. The cheaper cuts of mutton can be cooked in the same manner.

To prevent rust and lengthen the life of tinware, before using the article grease it with fresh lard and thoroughly heat it in the oven.

Brown shoes which are badly soiled but not so much worn as to be discarded may be colored black by the following method: Remove all dust, then take half a raw potato and rub this hard all over the shoe, after which apply a thick coating of blacking. Let this dry thoroughly; cover the leather with more blacking, then rub again, using a fresh piece of potato.

Use left over vegetable such as carrots, corn, parsnips, tomatoes and peas for a vegetable soup. Even cold mashed potatoes may be utilized in this way.

Have the grocer send the rind along with the bacon. A considerable quantity of fat may be extracted from the bacon rind by placing it in a pan in a hot oven, watching it carefully to prevent scorching.

A serviceable kitchen apron may be made from a house dress, the sleeves and waist of which have become worn. Cut off the skirt at the waist, open it at the bottom, hem each side and put on a belt.

The life of a broom may be considerably lengthened by the following treatment. Each wash day, after the clothes are all boiled, dip the brooms for a moment in the boiling soapy suds. Then shake them free of water and hang from a nail. (A screw eye should be put in the end of the handle for this purpose.) If the broom is inclined to become one-sided it can be pressed into shape while wet and pliable. This treatment keeps the brooms clean and in shape and they do not become brittle.

Small scraps of cold meat may be made into an appetizing breakfast dish in the following way: Make a porridge of corn meal, season with salt and pepper or paprika. Add the shredded cold meat, pour into a mold until firm, then cut into slices and fry.

"SNAPSHOTS" SOON TO BE STAGED HERE

Jacksonville Free Kindergarten to Give Entertainment to Raise Funds—Price to be Offered.

"Snapshots," the new two act drama recently released by its owners and acknowledged by critics to be one of the best written home talent comedy dramas in recent years is to be given at the Grand Opera House on Monday, December 4th, by the Free Kindergarten School of Jacksonville. The city's free Kindergarten, which has existed for many years, has never had any fixed or definite income and has always depended upon personal subscriptions and charity of public spirited citizens for its existence. Within the past few months so many other charitable causes have touched the public's pocketbook that that small child school is now suffering a deficit of several hundred dollars and must close unless immediate action is given. The work of Miss Charlotte Hopper and her assistants has been extraordinary this year and unusual interest has been displayed by the children who attend and their parents. This year has been a record. About forty students are in regular attendance and it is the feeling of those who have the kindergarten in charge that the closing of the school would be most humiliating to them and most unfortunate for the small students. It is the desire of the committee to raise sufficient funds by staging "Snapshots" and a few personal subscriptions to pay off the present deficit and continue the school throughout the winter months.

"Snapshots" is a new play written by the same author as "The Union Depot for a Day," which was successfully staged here two years ago by the kindergarten board under the direction of Miss Millicent Rowe who will also have direction of "Snapshots."

The cast is composed of about fifty people and it is said will be more amusing and humorous than anything previously staged by local talent. The cast will be announced later. It is hoped by the kindergarten board and those citizens who have its interests at heart that citizens of Jacksonville will support the enterprise and buy tickets at $1 each. The date for reservation of seats will be announced later, by the committee.

A prize of five dollars is to be given to any student of the public schools selling the largest number of tickets and two dollars and fifty cents to the student selling the next largest number. Tickets may be obtained from Mr. Larson at The Peacock Inn or Mr. R. Y. Rowe at the Clover Leaf Casualty Co.

Bedroom in O'eder

Christine's bedroom was in excellent order. A blue serge suit and a suitcase were missing. Mr. Patterson said he searched the room and found intact such things as a girl would take on a trip. Magdalena said that the blue serge was a suit that her sister wore at the sanatorium.

"She had an obsession that anything she wore at the institution was unclean and she may have gone out to burn it when she was attacked," said Magdalena.

Leads to Wild Goose Chase

The theory of an attack by some unknown person led to a wild goose chase yesterday when it was learned that Peter Senek had escaped from the Pontiac reformatory on Oct. 27, the day Christine disappeared. It developed, however, that pursuing guards knew of the fugitive's whereabouts all of that day and he was not near the Diemer home, they said.

The circumstance of notes endorsed by the elder Deimer was cleared up when he explained that he endorsed notes for $2,500 to secure a loan made by Christine to her brother Julius.

Find No Trace of Suit

Altho the blue serge suit has disappeared with Christine, she did not wear it. Her body when taken from the river was clothed only in undergarments and a "bungalow apron." No trace of the suit has been found.

Wins Three Straight Games Thursday Evening on Local Floor—Plans Announced for the Winter Tournament.

That Jacksonville is still a leader in volleyball was made evident on Thursday evening when a sturdily built team from Quincy was taken into camp, Jacksonville winning a set of three straight games. The scores were 21-2, 21-8 and 21-15.

The Quincy lineup: B. Goldberg, Ed Schrag, W. H. Gunmon, William Ott, F. M. Deerkake and H. W. Crammer. Mr. Crammer is physical director of the Quincy association. The Jacksonville team is composed of Ed Hopper, L. B. Potter, John Butler, R. Y. Rowe, Leo Cooney, M. W. Osborne and A. C. Metcalf. The team has been doing good practice work recently and Mr. Brewer, the physical director, feels optimistic regarding the results of the big volleyball tournament which Jacksonville will enter next winter.

The tournament will be held in Quincy the third week in January. In addition to Jacksonville and Quincy the cities which will send teams are Hannibal, Galesburg, Monmouth and Keokuk.

RAILROAD FREIGHTS ARE COMPARED

Lower Levels Here Than in Any Other Country but India—Wages are Higher.

While receiving lower freight rates per ton per mile than railways of any other country in the world, except India, the railroads of the United States pay higher wages than the railroads of any other country in the world, except Western Australia, says the Railway Age Gazette in an analysis, published in its current issue, of a bulletin just issued by the Bureau of Railway Economics giving comparative statistics of the railroads of the United States and of 38 foreign countries, representing seven-eighths of the world's railway mileage.

The article also points out that the capitalization of the railways of the United States, $65,861 per mile, is less than that of any of the principal countries of the world, and is only from one-third to one-half as great as the capitalization of the railroads of the principal countries of Europe. In the only country having lower freight rates than the United States, viz., India, the cost of labor is so little as to be almost negligible, and the only country in which railway wages are higher than in the United States is Western Australia, where the average freight rate per ton-mile is almost twice as great as in the United States.

The statistics are for 1913, the latest year for which comparative figures are available.

Low Rates and High Wages.
"Undoubtedly the most striking feature of these comparisons," the Railway Age Gazette says, "is the low rates for which freight is carried in the United States in spite of the high wages paid, since wages constitute the principal item in railway operating expenses. The average receipts per ton-mile on the railroads of the United States, 729 cent, are only about 60 per cent of the average rate for hauling a ton one mile received by the principal European countries. India is the only country in the world that has a lower rate, 700 cent. Brazil has the highest rate, 7.03 cents per ton mile. Canada has only a slightly higher rate than the United States, 758 cent, while in most countries the average freight rates are two, three or four times as much as those received by the railroads of the United States."

The average receipts per ton-mile in some of the principal countries are given as follows: Austria, 1,509 cents; Denmark, 2,113; France, 1,183; Germany, 1,244; Hungary, 1,215; Japan, 0.774; Mexico, 1,443; Russia, 0.933; Spain, 2,226; Sweden, 1,373.

The article continues: "The average receipts per passenger-mile in the United States, on the other hand are higher than in any other country except Brazil and Cuba. The average rate in the United States is 2.008 cents, while in Austria the average rate is 1.997, in France 1.968, Spain 1.522, Hungary .957, Germany .908 and Russia .699 cent. In India the average rate is only .414 cent. In Brazil the average rate per mile is 2.64 and in Cuba 2.86. The reason for the low passenger rates in other countries is, of course, to be found in the difference in the character of the service and is explained in the tables published in the bulletin, showing that the average density of passenger traffic is greater in 17 other countries than it is in the United States, and also the tables showing the distribution of passengers into classes in other countries. In the United States practically all passenger traffic is first-class, while in other countries the great bulk of the travel is second or third class, and the average rate per passenger mile is greatly reduced on account of this preponderance of low-class traffic. In India, for example, which has the lowest passenger rates, $9.8 per cent of the traffic is third-class and the density of passenger traffic is 479,399 passenger-miles per mile of line, as compared with 143,067 in the United States. In Germany, which has a density of 693,317 passenger-miles per mile of line, 42 per cent of the travel is third-class, 49 per cent is fourth class and only 0.1 per cent is first-class. Belgium has a passenger density of 1,046,614.

Differences in Accommodation.
"An indication of the difference in the accommodations furnished in the different countries is afforded by the statement of the average number of passengers per train, which in the United States is 55. Denmark, with an average of 52, is the only country which has a smaller number of passengers in proportion to the train service than the United States. In India the average number of passengers per train is 183, in New South Wales it is 112, in Japan 108, Belgium 99, Germany 84 and France 70.

"The extravagance with which our passenger service in the United States is conducted to meet the demands of the traveling public is indicated by the fact that the passenger revenue per mile of line received by the railways of the United States $2,871, is exceeded in 16 other countries. In the United Kingdom the passenger revenue per mile of line is $9,684, in Belgium $7,347, in Switzerland $6,899, Holland $6,373 and in Germany $6,292.

The principal economies in operation in this country which have made possible practically the lowest freight rates in the world have been effected in the conduct of the freight service and mainly by increasing the size of the units in which freight is transported. The railroads of the United States handle more freight per car, per train and per mile than the railroads of any other country in the world. The average carrying capacity per freight car in the United States in 1913 was 38 tons, as compared with 14.3 tons in Austria, 14.1 in France, 15.9 in Germany and 13.4 in Hungary. The only country in which the average capacity of the freight cars approaches that of the United States are Mexico with 35.4 tons and Canada with 32.1. No other country in the world approaches the United States in the number of tons of freight per train. The average in 1913 was 445.4, in Canada, which comes next in order, the average was 342 tons, while in Austria the average was 195.9, in France it was 147, Germany 239 and Hungary 147 tons.

"The comparison of traffic density per mile of line and of the number of passengers and tons of freight per train suggests that in many countries passengers are handled very much like freight.

Freight Revenues Compared.
"That the level of freight rates in this country is even lower than would be accounted for by the traffic density is shown by the fact that although the railroads of the United States handle the greatest volume of traffic per mile of line their freight revenue is exceeded in four other countries. Railroads in the United States in 1913 handled an average of 1,245,158 ton-miles per mile of line, as compared with 1,119,983 in Germany and 1,033,254 in Russia, the next two countries on the list in point of traffic density. The freight revenue per mile of line in the United States, however, was only $9,048, as compared with $13,959 in Germany. In Austria the railways averaged $11,262 freight revenue per mile of line with an average density of 747,959. In Belgium the average freight revenue per mile of line was $14,440 and in the United Kingdom it was $13,682."

The average yearly compensation per employee in the United States in 1913 was $756.83. In Western Australia, the only country with a higher wage, the average was $800.50. In Germany the average was $408.97, in Holland, $311.52; Italy, $376.81; Austria, $335.90; Hungary, $300.41; Russia, $211.40. "In the principal European countries," the Gazette says, "the average wage is hardly more than half that paid in the United States. The lowest average is in Japan, $112.56."

"In earnings per mile of line the railroads of the United States are exceeded by those of 19 other countries, Austria, Belgium, Egypt, France, Germany, Holland, Italy, Russia and United Kingdom. The average operating revenue per mile of line in the United States in 1913 was $12,859; in Belgium, Germany and the United Kingdom earnings per mile were approximately twice as great. The highest average is that for the United Kingdom with $28,645."

"In net operating revenue per mile of line the railroads of the United States are exceeded by the railways of 12 other countries. The average for the United States was $3,920, while that for the United Kingdom was $10,708."

The average capital per mile of line for some of the principal countries, as shown by the Bureau's compilation, in 1913 was as follows: United States, $65,861; Austria, $122,053; Belgium, $216,143; Canada, $56,065; France, $150,439; Germany, $120,049; Hungary, $71,226; Japan, $88,633; Mexico, $68,360; Russia, $86,968; United Kingdom, $274,027.

JERSEY COLLEGE RANKS WELL AMONG SCHOOLS

Is Located Northwest of Jacksonville—Miss Muriel H. Standley the Teacher of Well Equipped School.

Located in the northwest part of the county is a modest temple of learning with a high sounding name, Jersey College, and yet the name is all right for it is a seat of learning and there are laid the foundations of wisdom which may be indefinitely amplified as the years go by. There it is that Miss Muriel H. Standley guides her youthful charges in the way of learning and amid pleasant surroundings. The modest structure is supplied with one thing lacking in most of the rural school buildings of the county and that is a commodious vestibule for storing the wraps and belongings of the pupils during school hours. It is a great convenience and adds greatly to the appearance of the interior and is much to be commended.

Again, some one or ones, in years gone by, had an eye to the future and planted a number of trees in the yard and they now afford fine shade for the children during play hours when the weather is warm and make a pleasing impression on a passer by.

The present directors are Messrs. Thomas J. Parlier, E. G. McPhaden and H. E. Ogilvie and they have had an eye to duty also. The building has the lights arranged with an abundance of windows on one side according to statute and has a modern heating plant strictly up to date. A library contains a number of books for perusal and consultation and an organ is used by the teacher during opening exercises. A portrait of the Father of his Country graces the south wall and some other pictures keep it company. There are also some maps for the use of pupils in geography.

The country about is varied. The journey there was made by way of Grace Chapel and right here let it be said, if any one who toves Morgan county wants to get a romantic viewpoint let him take that road to Jersey College. A long hill leads down to Indian creek which was straightened a few years ago, reclaiming a lot of low land and looking northwestward from the foot of that hill a fine view is obtained in the direction of the church. Then passing over the low land the view to the south, east and west is grand and when the leaves are green or are colored with the tints of autumn the panorama is superb.

Turn northward just before reaching the church and several hills are encountered making a rugged road for a ways until the highway turns eastward and soon the schoolhouse is reached. The surroundings are pleasant and the place is attractive. Pupils attending this school have many things to make their lives agreeable. Their names are:

HOUSE MOVING CASE IS SETTLED

Building Was Drawn Across Street Car Tracks Late Thursday Night—Circuit Court Orders.

An agreement was reached in the injunction proceedings of the Jacksonville Railway & Light Co. against James P. Ball. The court upheld the injunction, declaring that Mr. Ball should not have threatened to move the building across the tracks without regard to the company's property. The court also ruled that the company was not within its rights in making a charge or moving the building across the tracks. There was some talk of an appeal and later the attorneys for Mr. Ball agreed to pay the docket fee of the injunction and the company agreed to make the necessary arrangements for permitting the building to be moved across the tracks last night.

The court made it very plain that he regretted that a comparatively insignificant matter had resulted in the extended court proceeding and an expense so much larger than was warranted by the interests at stake.

ARGUMENT BEGUN IN BROWNING CASE

Reading of Evidence Before the Master Was Concluded Thursday—W. T. Wilson Making Opening Argument for Trustee.

Argument was begun Thursday in the Browning land case before Judge Croighton in the circuit court. The reading of evidence before the master was concluded and the opening argument was then begun by W. T. Wilson. He will be followed by John A. Bellatti, Walter Bellatti and Paul Moriarty for Mrs. Sallie Orear, who is seeking a partition of the lands held by her brother, the late D. Rees Browning; and John J. Reeve and Hugh P. Green will speak in behalf of the Farmers State Bank & Trust Co., trustee under the will. Mr. Wilson will make the closing argument in behalf of the trustee.

The case which has been mentioned from time to time, is one of the most important which has come before the Morgan county circuit court for a number of years, as large property interests are involved. It is the claim of Mrs. Orear that while her brother, the late D. Rees Browning, held lands and other property in fee simple, that she had a half interest in these properties which she alleges were purchased with money arising from a co-partnership fund. To substantiate this claim various witnesses appeared before the master to testify to the work done by Mrs. Orear, then Miss Browning, in years gone by when her brother engaged to some extent in a gardening and dairy-claim inherited money not divided in business.

Witnesses were also brought from Kentucky who testified to certain statements said to have been made by Mr. Browning tending to show that a partnership existed between himself, his brother and his sister, and that this partnership continued after his brother's death. Mrs. Orear's attorneys have also sought to show that Mr. Browning received a considerable sum of money from his aunt, Miss Evaline Rees, who for many years was a member of the Browning household, and that no share in this money was given to his sister.

It has been claimed that when an older aunt, Miss Caroline Rees, died some years ago that she left an estate of about $10,000 and that this passed to her sister Evaline; and it was argued that when Evaline died she must have had an estate worth $20,000. It is the further claim of Mrs. Orear's attorneys that this sum has almost doubled from its increment during the years that Mr. Browning handled it. Their claim is that these funds thus obtained entered largely into the amounts later expended in the purchase of valuable farm lands and other properties.

In 1893 the records show that Mr. Browning had a mortgage of $11,000 on land owned by Dr. L. W. Brown and in 1896 this tract was transferred to Mr. Brown. A re-purchase clause was written when the transfer was made, good until three or four years later, but the re-purchase was not made. The attorneys for the trustee assert that there was nothing surprising in Mr. Browning having $11,000 at the time the mortgage was given as he had then been a resident of Jacksonville for twenty years. The tract of land purchased from Dr. Brown was the first he owned. Subsequently he acquired 164 acres from J. H. Osborne as trustee. Later on he bought 80 acres from Mr. Berchold and the remainder of the section he owned was purchased from Edward W. Brown.

Marriage Contract and Will Quoted
In 1910 Mr. Browning entered into a marriage contract which was in accordance with his will made on the day following. This will provided that his wife and sister should enjoy in equal shares the income from the land for life and at the death of either the other was to have the whole income for life. This will also provided that his wife and sister should each have the right to dispose by will of one fourth of the farm lands.

The attorneys for the trustee assert, and presented various letters as proof, that Mrs. Orear was familiar with the details of the marriage contract and the will. It is their claim that if Mrs. Orear had a half interest in the real estate and that the real estate had been purchased from a co-partnership fund, that she would have asserted her rights at that time instead of waiting to make claim to an interest in the property after Mr. Browning's death. The will made in 1910 was changed by the will drawn in 1913, which forms the basis of the present litigation. It is claimed by the trustee that Mrs. Orear has $23,000 worth of securities purchased with moneys paid to her by her brother from time to time.

Thanksgiving Time Is Dining-Room Time

Whether you are planning on Thanksgiving festivities in your own home or not—this is the logical time of the year to brighten the dining-room—for Thanksgiving ushers in the long season of hospitality and entertainment in which the dining-room will play a very important part.

Naturally you will want your dining-room to look its best—for it is here that your guests will receive their impression of your home.

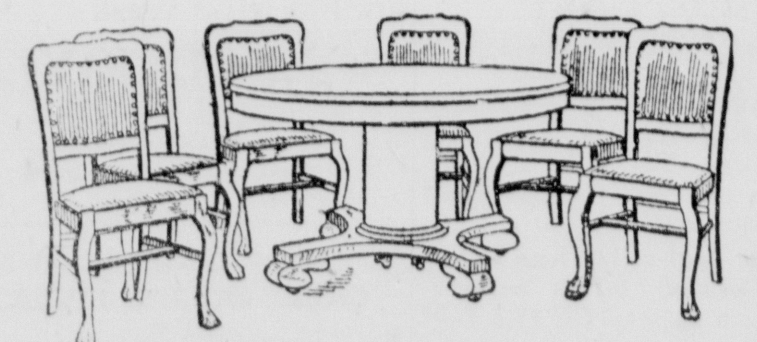

Perhaps new curtains are needed—or a new rug or possibly a new dining table or new chairs—or a serving table—or a dinner wagon. Whatever is lacking should most logically be supplied now.

No matter how little or how much you may be prepared to pay for any dining-room furnishing requirement, we believe it will pay you, not alone from a standpoint of dollars and cents, but from the standpoint of "desirability" and "fitness for your needs"—to rely on the Andre & Andre store.

Everything here is marked in plain, readable figures, one right, lowest possible price to everybody all the time. We suggest that you make value comparisons.

You will always be cordially welcome here, whether you come to buy or just to look.

Some very helpful suggestions for the furnishing of the dining-room are offered in one of our windows.

Never before have we shown such a large and varied line in Colonial, Period and Straight line.

We offer special in golden quartered white oak, chairs upholstered, seat and back, in best grade brown Spanish leather, similar to illustration. For the six Chairs and Table,

"Brown" Army Represents Foreign Power Intervening in Mexico—"White" Army Awaits Advance of Invading Force at San Benito

Brownsville, Tex., Nov. 16.—The "Brown army" representing a theoretical foreign power intervening in Mexico, and last night invading the United States at Point Isabel, thence marching to Brownsville, departed today toward San Benito, 19 miles north. There an advance brigade of the defending "white army" commanded by Colonel R. L. Ballard awaits the advance.

It took the "Brown" troops four hours of steady marching to clear Brownsville. A "White" division was still in camp at Llano Grande this morning, but is now supposed to be moving toward the southeast. Ideal weather marked the start of the maneuvers of the 20,000 Guardsmen in the Brownsville district.

The maneuver is expected to require two weeks and is a part of the regular course of instruction and follows individual regimental and brigade maneuvers, four day hikes and skirmish warfare. It was ordered by Brigadier General James Parker, commanding the Brownsville district.

The invading force, the "Brown army," is to try to wrest a large territory known as the "Lower Rio Grande Valley" from the white army, the defending force which is to be stationed in the neighborhood of Llano Grande, 46 miles west of Brownsville.

The territory in which the armies are to be active is bounded on the east by the Gulf of Mexico, on the south by the Rio Grande, on the north by Harlingen, 29 miles north of Brownsville, and on the west by Llano Grande camp, 17 miles west of Harlingen.

"The Brown army" all of which is stationed near Brownsville probably will be in command of Brigadier-General H. A. Allen of the Iowa brigade and will include the First Brigade Iowa Infantry; First Battalion Iowa Artillery; First Company Iowa Engineers; First Iowa Ambulance company and the First Iowa Field Hospital.

The "White army" probably will be in command of Brig.-Gen. E. M. Lewis, commanding the First Brigade, Minnesota Infantry, and will include the second provisional cavalry regiment at Donna, embracing the Iowa squadron.

The "Richmond Blues," Virginia troops, will be with the "Brown" army, and so will be regiments from Colorado, New Hampshire.

Indiana, North Dakota, South Dakota, Oklahoma, Nebraska and Minnesota troops are also included in the "white army."

All rules of warfare will be observed. Movements of armies are not to be disclosed except as the soldiers desire. Towns are to be captured and manufacturing plants of various kinds "seized."

Located in the areas of "warfare" will be the town of Point Isabel, with its United States radio station.

HARMON'S MEN KEEN FOR GAME TODAY

Illinois College Foot Ball Squad Not Disheartened by Defeat at Decatur—Expect to Win Easily From Shurtleff.

Despite the defeat at Decatur, last Saturday Harmon's football warriors have been putting a lot of "pep" into their practice this week preparatory to the game with Shurtleff on the Illinois field this afternoon.

While the thermometer has hovered close to the zero point and Illinois field has been frozen it has not retarded the practice. In fact Capt. Frisbie and his men have shown as much spirit in practice as the there was another championship in sight. This bodes ill for the remaining teams on Illinois' schedule this season.

Harmon's men saw Millikin play Shurtleff at Decatur a week ago last Saturday. Millikin walked all over the Shurtleff team, winning by a score of 57 to 0. Shurtleff, which used to boast of strong teams, has been in the rut for several years.

This season, however, Snodgrass, a former football star of the school, has been coaching the team. While he has whipped the team into fairly good condition, in the opinion of

Pierce, Half Back

Coach Harmon, it is still weak and no trouble is anticipated by Illinois this afternoon in bringing home the bacon.

It is Coach Harmon's intention to start his regular lineup in the game. If the men run up a likely score in the first part of the game it is probable that most of the substitutes will be given a chance to get in the game. All of the men came thru the Millikin game in good shape and the Illinois squad is being pointed to the game with Southern Normal which closes the local schedule with a game here on Thanksgiving day.

While Illinois expects to take the measure of the Southern Normal she does not expect to accomplish the feat without a struggle. Last Saturday Southern Normal was defeated by Eastern Normal. While Illinois has also defeated Eastern Normal there is no doubt but that the team is much stronger than when it played Illinois. The Eastern Normal team is being pointed toward the Thanksgiving tilt with Millikin. Then again St. Louis University was only able to defeat Southern Normal by a score of 7 to 0. Football enthusiasts can rest assured that the Thanksgiving game will be a battle royal. If Illinois plays true to form she should be on the long end of the score.

PROTEST ESTABLISHMENT OF POLISH KINGDOM

Russian Diplomatic Representatives Instructed to Voice Protest to Various Governments.

London, Nov. 15.—The diplomatic representatives of Russia, wires Reuter's Petrograd correspondent, have been instructed to hand to the government to which they are accredited the following protest against the Austro-German proclamation establishing the Polish kingdom:

"In defiance of the laws of nations, the German and Austro-Hungarian military authorities at Warsaw and at Lublin have proclaimed the Russian provinces of Poland henceforth to form a separate state.

"The imperial Russian government protests against this act as a fresh violation of an international convention solemnly sworn to by Austro-Hungary and Germany and declares it null and void. It reaffirms that the provinces of the kingdom of Poland have not ceased to form an integral part of the Russian empire and that their inhabitants will be bound by the oath of fidelity which they took to the emperor, my august master."

WOMAN GIVEN TWO DAYS

To Make Up Her Mind for Surgical Operation. She Refused; Cured by Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound.

Philadelphia, Pa.—"One year ago I was very sick and I suffered with pains in my side and back until I nearly went crazy. I went to different doctors and they all said I had female trouble and would not get any relief until I would be operated on. I had suffered for four years before this time, but I kept getting worse the more medicine I took. Every month since I was a young girl I had suffered with cramps in my sides at periods and was never regular. I saw your advertisement in the newspaper and the picture of a woman who had been saved from an operation and this picture was impressed on my mind. The doctor had given me only two more days to make up my mind so I sent my husband to the drug store at once for a bottle of Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, and believe me, I only took four doses before I felt a change and when I had finished the third bottle I was cured and never felt better. I grant you the privilege to publish my letter and am only too glad to let other women know of my cure."—Mrs. Thos. McGONICAL, 3432 Hartville Street, Phila., Pa.

FARM NOTES

Some Stock Raising Experiences.

Taylor Henderson, who is one of the successful farmers of the county has had considerable experience in the stock business and says it pays him to raise calves. He says he has a large stock field and in that his cows and horses can do well till the latter part of January when he turns them on blue grass pasture and feeds hay. He estimates that he can keep a cow a year for $24. A few days ago he sold a lot of Black Pol Angus calves, just weaned, seven months old, at $35 each and one at $50, a yearling at $50 and a cow for $80. He says he regards it a sin to kill such calves as he sold for if they are treated right there is good money to be made by keeping them.

With his hogs he had worse luck. They seemed to be all right and he had them vaccinated supposedly with the best serum and he noticed they were not doing extra well. A second treatment was given them and he lost a good many. He doesn't condemn vaccination but gives his experience and he is sure the serum was of the best.

Forget Your Ancestor's Recipes; Try Modern Ones

Many people cling to old methods of doing things. In the November issue of Farm and Fireside, a writer says:

"We have formed the habit, also, of attaching undue importance to certain methods and recipes which have come down from our ancestors. Some of these, it is true, cannot easily be improved upon. But with fine meat becoming more and more a luxury there should be no haphazard methods used in killing and curing. The process is simple, and there is a scientific reason for every step all the way from the fatted animal to the frying pan.

"Just because a hog is butchered on a farm makes the meat no better than if the animal were killed anywhere else, and if careless methods of handling are practiced the meat may actually be of inferior quality."

"This side of the matter was once put to me by a man whose observations were wide and whose palate was particular. If I must constantly eat the quality of meat found on the tables of some of my neighbors," he said, "then I prefer to buy meat for home use from the packers." He went on to describe oversalting, strong flavors, and other qualities he had noticed but which the people who used the meat had become accustomed to, and who apparently consider their products of good quality. "How can anyone hope to satisfy customers with that class of meat," he asked in conclusion.

UNIVERSITY CONFERENCE CONVENES IN THE EAST

Third Annual Meeting Being Held At University of Pennsylvania.

Philadelphia, Nov. 16.—The university's relation to public service, the relationship of women to the movement to induce universities to give more specific training for public service by field training and civil service reform were among the subjects for discussion at the third annual conference of universities and public service which opened here at the University of Pennsylvania.

The meetings, which will continue over tomorrow, were held under the auspices of the Society for the Promotion of Training for Public Service. Delegates representing leading educational institutions, civil service reform associations and state and city officials from many sections of the country were in attendance.

The purpose of the conference, it was announced, is to induce universities to give more specific training for public service and to promote civil service reform.

KING KALAHUA DAY IN HAWAII

Honolulu, Nov. 16.—"Hawaiian Pineapple Day" was celebrated in Honolulu and elsewhere throughout the territory today in honor of the birthday anniversary of King Kalakaua, the last male ruler of the Hawaiian Islands. The celebration was in the nature of a jubilee over the largest pack of pineapples in the history of the islands. Pineapples are now the second crop in value in the islands, and it was largely due to King Kalakaua's personal interest in agricultural enterprises that the industry gained such an impetus.

HUNGARIAN EXPECTS PEACE NEGOTIATIONS

Count Apponyi Thinks Opening of Parley Is To Be Looked for During Coming Winter.

Berlin, Nov. 13.—Via London, Nov. 15.—(Delayed) — The opening of peace negotiations may perhaps be expected with fair prospects of success during the coming winter, according to Count Albert Apponyi, veteran Hungarian leader and former Hungarian premier. Count Apponyi who is visiting Germany to deliver two addresses on Hungarian history, expressed his views in an interview given to a correspondent of The Associated Press.

"We cannot expect," he said, "to see peace negotiations opened within the next few weeks while the Rumanian campaign is still undecided. However, I regard our chances for success there as excellent and once Rumania is crushed, I think both sides will be willing to consider the question of peace. Rumania was the Entente's last card and is proving a losing one."

To illustrate what he regards as the improving chances for peace negotiations Count Apponyi referred to recent speeches of statesmen in the opposing camps. "Not Lloyd George of course," he interjected parenthetically, "but such as Lord Grey and Chancellor Von Bethmann-Hollweg for example."

PRAYERS ON FIELD WIN LITTLE 19 CHAMPIONSHIP

Millikin Players Have Prayer At Critical Points in Games This Season.

Decatur, Ill., Nov. 15.—That prayers on the gridiron is what won the championship of the "little 19" conference for the Millikin football team was the statement made here by Captain Eugene Sutherland. At critical points in all games during the season Sutherland called his players about him and said a few words of prayer. Then they went in with renewed vigor and made their "first down" every time.

Millikin will send a train load of rooters to Bloomington Saturday to play the Illinois Wesleyan team.

DEMAND FOR FEMALE LABOR INCREASES IN BERLIN

Berlin, Nov.—The demand for female labor is constantly on the increase, according to reports from agencies that supply help. This increased demand is accompanied by increased demands for pay on the part of the women, so that many of them now insist on at least 50 pfennigs an hour (something under ten cents), according to present rates of exchange.)

The greatest demand for unskilled female labor has come from the leather and metal trades that already employ thousands if not hundreds of thousands of men whose presence in the army is more and more desired.

Corresponding to the increased demand for domestic servants, indicating an increasing simplicity in living standards.

DON'T DRUG KIDNEYS RUB BACKACHE AWAY

Instant Relief! Rub Pain, Soreness and Stiffness from Your Back with "St. Jacob's Oil"

Kidneys cause backache? No! They have no nerves, therefore can not cause pain. Listen! Your backache is caused by lumbago, sciatica, or a strain, and the quickest relief is soothing, penetrating "St. Jacob's Oil." Rub it right on the ache or tender spot, and instantly the pain, soreness, stiffness and lameness disappears. Don't stay crippled! Get a small trial bottle of "St. Jacob's Oil" from your druggist and limber up. A moment after it is applied you will wonder what became of the back ache, sciatica or lumbago pain. "St. Jacob's Oil" stops any pain at once. It is harmless and doesn't burn or discolor the skin.

It's the only application to rub on a weak, lame or painful back, or for lumbago, sciatica, neuralgia, rheumatism, sprains or a strain.—Adv.

tions to congress relative to an embargo on foodstuffs did a good deal today to weaken the price of wheat.

Closing quotations were heavy at 10 to 2½c net decline with Dec. at $1.85½ to $1.85½ and May at $1.90½ to 1.91½. Corn finished ½¢ off to ½¢ up; oats unchanged and provisions varying from live cents loss to a rise of 15c.

Willingness that holders, evincing to take profits was a notable factor throughout the day in the wheat pit even during the first couple of hours notwithstanding that prices were then on the upgrade. The early strength was chiefly due to advices that hot winds were damaging the crop in southern Argentina and that yields there were light.

Corn finally weakened with wheat.
For the greater part of the day however, the corn market was higher independently of reports that the new crop in Argentina was a failure.
—Oats held within a comparatively narrow range. Seaboard handlers figure that oats from the United States can be laid down in London
30c a bushel cheaper than shipments from Argentina.

Signs of Belgian relief buying made provisions average higher. Declines in the hog market were virtually ignored.

CAPTURE OF BEAUCOURT AN IMPORTANT EVENT

German Resistance to British Advance is Slight Even in Highly Fortified Position.

(Copyright 1916, the Associated Press.)

With the British Armies in France via London, Nov. 16.—The British advance along both sides of the Aisne which continued yesterday with the capture of Beaucourt, is considered by British commanders as one of the most important successes in the four months offensive. They insist especially on the relatively insignificant character of the German resistance in a highly fortified position of great strategic importance.

More than 5,000 prisoners have been collected in the extensive subterranean galleries and chambers sunk on both sides of the valley and miles in extent.

The British success south of the Aisne was increased because the Germans here were on the point of being relieved by fresh troops when the attack was launched. The result was that twice the normal strength of the garrison was trapped by the barrage fire. Among prisoners taken were many men of the ninety-third infantry of which the Duke of Albany is honorary colonel in chief.

Most of the infantry fighting was done with grenades instead of bayonets. The British swarmed over the surface between the trench lines and hurled showers of bombs into the German dugouts and shelters, capturing in quick succession seven parallel rows of the main German trenches between Beaumont-Hamel and Beaucourt. Prisoners from the Prussian Guards told The Associated Press correspondent that the terrific British bombardment destroyed the machine gun emplacements and made resistance to the infantry charge impossible. They said they were cut off from the reserves on an entire front of seven miles, which was isolated by the British curtain fire. They declared they were glad to surrender.

South of the Aisne a tank was attacked with bombs by large numbers of Germans. All of the attackers were killed by the guns of the tank.

The British casualties south of the Aisne were lighter in proportion than in any previous operation of the past four months. The British attack was pressed continuously last night. All grounds as far as Beaucourt has been well consolidated and the troops are pushing forward. Forcible.

ALTON MEN HELD ST. LOUIS CONFERENCE

Car Situation One of the Principal Themes Discussed—Monthly Meeting of DePartments Will be Held.

The semi-annual meeting of the Traffic and Operating representatives of the "Alton Company" was held in St. Louis, November 12th and 13th, the meeting presided over by Mr. S. G. Lutz, General Traffic Manager, and Mr. X. H. Cornell, General Superintendent.

In addition to the traffic representatives located on the line there were more than 50 freight and passenger representatives from "Alton" agencies throughout the United States.

Matters of general interest in the various territories were discussed, with a view to adjusting freight and passenger schedules and service in general, so as to best meet the requirements of the traveling and shipping public, particular attention being given to the car situation, with a view to every way possible expediting the movement of cars and obtaining the fullest co-operation of patrons of the road in the prompt loading and unloading of equipment.

In addition to these general meetings, the "Alton" management has also arranged for monthly meetings between the various departments at the large terminals on the system, with a view to discussing matters of local interest and obtaining the closest possible co-operation in all departments.

It is stated that the results of such meetings have proven very beneficial not only in the way of increased efficiency, but in enabling the management to more readily anticipate and meet the necessities of the traveling and shipping public.
